

An Incredible, Edible, Charity Event!

Canstruction® Calgary brings together multi-disciplinary teams from the engineering, design and construction communities to create and build extraordinary structures out of canned food and other non-perishables. Originally started in New York in 1993, the project has spread around the globe.

Since 2006, Canstruction® Calgary has provided more than 250,000 pounds of food to needy Calgarians.

Call for Entries

Canstruction® Calgary invites everyone from the design and build community to participate in this unique competition. Teams are challenged to build creative, structurally sound sculptures entirely out of canned food and other non-perishables. At the end of the competition and public viewing, all food is donated to the Calgary Food Bank.
